The Spirit of Women Hospital Network has been experiencing tremendous and continual growth throughout 2006. Hospitals and health systems have noticed the successes of their colleagues, and recognize the benefits and opportunities presented by Spirit of Women.

One of the many contributors to this success of Spirit of Women and its growth is its national consumer website, www.spiritofwomen.com. This site has recently been refurbished and relaunched. The newly updated site, while offering much of the same helpful information has plans to offer pod casts, interactive presentations, and even more information on health issues affecting women and their families. This re-launch marks Spirit of Women's continuation in making the website one of the most energetic, intelligent, and reliable health sites on the internet. Spirit of Women is dedicated to providing tools that empower and motivate women towards better health.
